EX-101-1000

28 June 1945

TO : SAC, NEW YORK
FROM : SAC, NEW YORK
SUBJECT: The ZILMER Notebooks

1. Attached herewith transmitted are four shorthand notebooks containing the official correspondence from May 1944 to March 1945 of Lt. ZILMER, abt. VI, representative Milan. The notebooks were seized by the FBI/2 Milan shortly after the fall of the city and in the opinion of this unit provide one of the richest single sources of information on the activities of abt. VI Milan and on the background of the Armistice negotiations. Grateful acknowledgment was conveyed in December 1945 to COMIC Rome for their aid in transcribing the shorthand into German.

2. The attachment comprises 167 separate memos, each bearing a reference number, chronologically dispersed as follows:

Ref. No. 1 - 45:	Feb-March 1945
46 - 78:	Jan-Feb. 1945
79 - 102:	Aug-Nov. 1944
103 - 167:	May-Sept. 1944.

It is thus clear that at least one other notebook covering the period Nov-Dec 1944 was missing or not seized.

3. ZILMER's memoranda provide an irrefutable corroboration for the statements now being made by or for some of the prominent abt. VI double agents in North Italy.

4. Chief among them is Baron Luigi LARRIBI who is for the first time herein seen in his proper perspective as a man bound mind and foot to abt. VI and the plans which ZILMER and his superiors plotted. It is apparent that the pro-armistice negotiations were in fact the work of the Intelligence (most particularly abt. VI) system on the German side as it was from the side of the Germans.

9. It is pointed out that the activities of the Committee include much that is directly relating to the GPO's activities. For this reason an amendment is being made to the constitution to bring under the Committee's jurisdiction all the proper functions of the Association in connection with the GPO's activities.

To VI/2. BRAJTBURG.

9. To the F2 (Frontistello?; forward detachment) over there the following is reported:

10. (1) Mrs. Josephine F. is not the wife of Count Edward F(OSS)3. She resides either in BELTIERE(?) SW of BERGAMO) nor in USLA(?); she doesn't live in Genoa, either.

11. (2) The wife of Count Edward I(OSS) with her 2 children lives in J...(?) with the Count's parents. Ed. F(OSS)'s sister is the present Baroness (Luise) P.(REILLI)4; therefore Count P(OSS) is the brother-in-law, not the cousin, of Baroness P(REILLI).

12. Nothing is known here about a brother of Baron P(REILLI).

13. My 15 print out that Mrs. Josephine is a personal agent of Brig. Gen. SCHEID...

1. Maj. Bruno von BRAJTBURG, the C.O., Lt VI/2, Italian.
See IR on - CMC/CJ/SD 75 (8 Oct '45); and Ref. No. 37, note 3.

2. See Ref. No. 12 for another entry on this character.

3. See Ref. No. 31, para 2, for data on this character and on his business associate, Baron Louis REILLI; a GIC go-between and suspected double agent.

4. Liked by security services. See SC1/2, para. para No. 172 (1941-1944), 20 Nov '45.

113. Mr. F. was suspicious of an Intelligence trick, it was necessary to win his confidence; to this end I cited him 2 names which can by no means do any harm, Mr. von FI(SCHET) and Mr. von FURSTENBERG.³ I am pursuing 2 goals here:

- a. I really hope to get a lead on the ends desired.
- b. If this lead be established, can I but convince Mr. von FI(SCHET) and the committee that I am working "only" to their wish.
- c. If Mr. von FI(SCHET) already has contact, then an ascertainment of enemy opinion will arise.

1. 1945. This would be the operation Westwind, following the failure of the still-born operation Westwind, cited by Dr. Klaus HUEZL (see 5th IR on - 3313/34/SE 25, 21 Jun 45, report 2-8-45, p. 14); also Ref. No. 28, note 1, above.) See Ref. Nos. 26 and 31, note 1, on Baron Luigi FURSTENBERG, Italian industrialist and JIA go-between. From the Allied standpoint this was operation Sunrise.

REF. NO. 31

To Mr. Luigi (Baron) LUIGI, No. 10, LITTONIC (LITONIC)

10

Dear Luigi,--

115. I have just learned that that yard-bird (Lt Enrico CRILIER)² has escaped in the FOM truck. He will certainly cut through as quickly as possible toward Switzerland. In the long run, this is good news for you, since you've had so much vexation. I can also tell you the truth at last as to how this whole skull-duggery arose.

116. Through the capture of (Marquis Uberto) CRIVELLI³, or perhaps through the capture of some members of the FRANCHI organization⁴, SEVECKE's agents got on the scent of CRILIER. They must have found out that CRILIER had a contact with...(?)..., the brother-in-law...(?)...POSS(?). At any rate, I learned on the day in question that...(?)..., the brother-in-law of Count FO.⁶, and you too were to be apprehended by Cav Capt Count THUN⁷. Naturally, that would have been damned distressing to me. When I got the news by chance, that afternoon, that you were to be apprehended, I forestalled the pick-up, and presented my superiors with the statement that the capture had really been possible through you. That brought me the welcome advantage that you and your brother-in-law remained unmolested. To be sure, this bore the disadvantage for you and your brother-in-law that, because he went free, the rumor arose that he was implicated in the capture. So much the more pleasant, now, is the fact that CRILIER was able to escape; and it is even more pleasant in that we obtain by what we told the Kommando that you were of assistance to us in the capture of CRILIER.⁸

117.has prepared the way faithfully for the release of CRIVELLI.

118. I tell you this in haste because I know that you are going away tomorrow, and I myself cannot be free today because of work. I would not of course trust all this to the telephone,

1. See Ref. No. 3, note 3, and Ref. No. 30. This is the office address of Baron LUIGI and his brother-in-law and business associate Count Edward LUIGI. The two were among the directors of the Società Anonima, VMI, at this address. BARON LUIGI was Vice President of the firm.

REF. NO. 31 (cont'd)

2. On 14 Jan 45, Italian officer of the General Staff, MIL. He was arrested by two British agents (see note 1 below) on 15 Jan 45 at the above-cited office of FRANZI and ROSS, while conferring with the two of them. See SCU/2, Field HQ-File No. J2X-4100 (Lilur, 4 Feb 45). As FRANZI predicted, CRATER did indeed reach Switzerland, having escaped while en route to the concentration camp at Bolzano.

3. See Ref. No. 12, note 1. This Milan Fascist was a good friend of CRATER, and had been arrested a few days earlier by the Gestapo.

4. See Ref. No. 18, note 2. Sogno Rata del V. LINO, alias "Badi FRANCHI," was the head of a Partisan organization working for British intelligence. See SCU/2, Florence, Misc No. 24 (20 May 45). Dr. Fritz KRAMER states that the outfit was thought to have been working for the Americans; see IR on Sturmabfuhrer KRAMER, CDIC/SC.19th by 2/3D 14(1) (4 June 45), sect. 3 (B)(iii), p. 3.

5. See Ref. Nos. 20, note 4 and 42. Hauptsturmfuhrer Theodor JENSEN, the Leiter, Abis III and V (RSM), Assenkommando Milan.

6. See Ref. Nos. 3 and 12.

7. See Ref. No. 3, note 3. Minister Berthold, Graf THOM-MENSTEN, the representative in Milan of Reich IV/III-V, R.G.2. II.111 (attached to gipo and SD, Assenkommando Milan).

8. This ZILBER letter should constitute another interesting obstacle for Baron P. JAFFE to hurdle in the course of his "repeated assertions that he was an utterly pro-allied individual in German-occupied Italy." See J2X-343 (5 June 1946) for IR. CRATER's account of his and CRIVELLI's arrests.

REF. NO. 32

To RMA, 11/8, For R. J. JAFFE.

Subject: CRATER (see Ref. No. 31, Sect. 3, WICZ).

1. CRATER was a German who attempted via a local agent to obtain a passport for the above-named. The passport was issued by the German Embassy in Berlin on 14 Jan 1945, and then destroyed by the German Embassy in Berlin on 15 Jan 1945.

REF. NO. 79

To: RE CLIO (Gr-nobochistelle WEST)¹

264. I will come Monday at 0930 with Lt. P. to talk about the STEF.MI case.²

1: See Ref. No. 103, notes 2 and 3.

2: The reference is to Lt. Domènec FERRERI (also FERRERI) and Gino STEF.MI, Secretary and chief, respectively, of the L.G.I.A. in Milan. On the latter, see Ref. No. 16, note 14. On Lt. FERRERI, see Ref. Nos. 49, note 1; 67; 76, note 3.

REF. NO. 79

Subject: Giuliano G. ROSE¹

265. About 10 or 14 days ago I met the above-named through Baron FERRERI.⁴ Count ROSE told me in his presence that Baron FERRERI has received visits from rebels in his villa at INTRA (about these events, 3 Mr. 2727/944 of 11 August 1944). At that time, I told the Count that he could not do anything else in his situation, being unarmed, but to deliver both money and foodstuffs. I even told him, jokingly, that I had denounced him to the rebels in order to obtain a certificate that I was a friend and supporter of the rebels. I needed such a certificate on my trip through the country, in order to be protected against the attacking authorities. A few days later Count ROSE told me that the rebels are to hand out such a certificate against payment of 10,000 lire.⁴

REF. NO. 79 (contd)

266. A few days ago the above-named told me the following: When he entered the villa the door was opened not by one of his servants, but by the rebels, who pointed a weapon toward him and led him to a room in which all persons belonging to his domestic staff were assembled. The rebels asked for money. Thereupon, he paid the requested amount of 100,000 lire. Then he was asked by the rebels to take up LILIAN with their leaders in Milan.

267. After that, COME went to see Baron PARILLI, who advised him not to undertake anything for the time being, while he would let him know about the matter. PARILLI, in fact, told me about it, but I could not take care of the matter, as I stayed for two days in Como.

268. Today, Baron PARILLI let me know that the above-named had been interrogated by the Italian police in Novara, and that he, therefore, believes that the man in question was not a rebel but.... of an Italian formation.

269. Therefore, I believe it to be necessary to bring this matter to the attention of the competent Italian authorities, without mentioning, however, the names of the Baron or the Count.

Distribution: To Se Ministero Interno S. J. J. J. for information;

1: See Ref. no. 165 on this character, who resided in GALLIATE, Province of NOVARA. For more on the "mad-rebel" incident, see Ref. No. 99. It should be noted that this jotting was out of its chronological order in the short hand notebook. It is the chronological and topical sequel of Ref. No. 99; below.

2: On Baron Luigi PARILLI, see Ref. Nos. 3, note 3; 30; 31, note 1; 77; 99.

3: For another jotting on this character, see Ref. No. 99.

4: Note how this piece dovetails with the developments following the arrest of OSS Mission chief EUGENIO E. ZUCCHI in August 1944, when PARILLI attempted, eventually successfully, to secure a set of false Italian documents for ZUCCHI from EUGENIO's successor Maurizio RICCIONI O. L. This episode confirms the tendency apparent throughout these notes that the first notes run counter to those of Ref. IV in many cases and that in fact, the Ref. IV representative in Milan through PARILLI was in touch with many elements of the Ref. IV whom he did not know or Ref. IV himself could not blow (that is until the Ref. IV was blown, see Ref. 31 and channel (see JZX-6024).

REF. NO.: 80

Subject: Baron I of Baron I

Reference: Conversation between Baron I and ZELER

270. I include the plan as elaborated by Baron I and his first four reports. The work seems very serious, but it is not sufficiently centered around counter-espionage.

271. I request communication of tasks for Baron I and of proposals for his activities, so that this contact may be started with useful results for VI.

I: Ugo CSTERI, Dr. P. RUDI who had been active for both the Partisans and the SS, assessments Kiln. The completest discussion of him, re his attempt to penetrate Allied Intelligence Service in Switzerland, may be found in the IX on Emigration Theodor SAFFER, CMIC/CM/SD 30 (24 June '45). Not to be confused with Ugo LORESTI, also and ex-CVR, official.

REF. NO.: 81

Subject: Investigation about the true Political Situation in England and America.¹

Reference: Conversation between Sturmabfuhrer A.H.² and Obsturnfuhrer Z (ZELER) - 14 November 1944

272. On 16 November 1944 a conversation took place with Baron I, in which Obsturnfuhrer Z revealed to the Baron that he never made any demands upon him so far, in the first place because he thought that the Baron would take care of an English or a Spanish-French matter, and secondly, in the conviction that at some time a really important political mission would make his collaborationness vital.

273. The Baron was told that a number of symptoms point to the fact that England as well as America are about to get themselves into a blind alley. It is supposed that England and America are now in the process of preparing a victorious ending of the war by being put off to the future, and that this situation is not creating any danger for Germany or for England and America, while it has enabled advantages for Communism.

274. I include

Ref. 100-1 (cont'd)

274. He was further told, our attitude toward Communism is well-known, while it is doubtful whether England and America have already understood the real dimensions of the Communist danger. For this reason, it is necessary to find thoughtful persons who have a sufficient number of personal contacts with leading personalities in the opposite camp and their disposal, in order to find out how the opposite camp judges the political world situation and possibly in order to change in politics.

275. Baron X showed himself highly pleased about this matter and about the possibility of being helpful through his activities in the pursuit of a really great aim. He also confirmed the above analysis of the political situation, and summarized his opinion by saying that Germany had gotten the Communist danger-drum for too long a time and too violently for the sensitive ears of the world, whereby the world public, out of antipathy against this propaganda drum, had actually lost a clear view of the great size of its danger. As big industrialist and financier, he has been able to make precise observations of the growing Communism in northern Italy during his political activity.

276. The above-mentioned collaboration with leading foreigners is secured, as personal friendships, all of them more than twenty years old, exist between Baron X and the following persons:

1. GINKS, an Englishman living in Switzerland, big industrialist and financier, personal friend of CHURCHILL's.
2. Lord JONES, Sheffield, London (sic)
3. Mr. Jack ROBINSON, married to the daughter of MCOLURTH, who is a friend of Baroness X.
4. In America

Howard M. LEVIN, a big financier and special advisor to ROOSEVELT, is of Jewish descent and is an intimate friend of MCQUEEN's. Their friendship stems from the fact that they are both Jews, as both have their country homes in Kingston, New York City.

It is to be noted that in contrast with Bureau, a large part of the financial business. In general, B&B is not directly involved in the political situation, which can be demonstrated from the fact that it shipped off Baron X weeks before the outbreak of the war to liquidate his business connections and to go to quit his Paris apartment and to move for the coming years to Switzerland.

217. Item I proposes the following procedure:

2. Rosen would pick up immediately telephone contact with LILIS and would then attempt to induce the latter to come to Switzerland.

14. The Ref. No. 7-1, for extensive holdings on failure of a similar but for different matter. REF. NO.: 99 (contd)

Distribution: Sturmbefehlerei RAUFF for information;
WERNER, BOSS.

1: On Count Edward POSS, see Ref. No. 79. It is clear that this memorandum is the immediate predecessor of Ref. No. 79. It is clear that in para. 315 ZILBER is asking for approval to make the statement on para. 255, above, and to request aid in securing false Italian documents. ZILBER's characterization at para. 315, is not without interest.

2: On Countess JOSS POSS, see Ref. No. 77, par. 260.

3: On Professor Ferruccio PABRI, former (1945) Premier of Italy, see Ref. No. 18, note 1.

4: On Galiardo de PORE, see Ref. Nos. 79 and 165.

5: On Baroness Luisa PABRILLI, see Ref. Nos. 3, note 4; 77, para. 260-261.

REF. NO.: 100

Attention of Sturmbefehlerei RAUFF

Subject: Agent A.SILIUS¹

318. A.SILIUS is going to call shortly at your office. Please pay him 100,000 Lira, which he needs for the carrying out of several missions.

1: See Ref. No. 111. This is the alias of Raffaele Carlo TRIERACCHINI, a former journalist, who, during the Spring and Summer of 1944, was employed as an agent of the IG in Rome and who later became a Sturmbefehlerei and recruiter for Gruppo 211 in Milan.
